THURSDAY.....AUGUST 7, 1873.

THE ELECTION, AUGUST 7TH.

The election to be held in this State on the first Thursday in August, on the constitutional amendments, is one of vast importance to our people.

It involves vital changes in the organic law of the State.

For the information of voters, we publish on our fourth page, and shall keep standing until the day of election, the clauses in the Constitution proposed to be altered, together with the eight amendments that passed the Legislature by the requisite constitutional majority, and which are to be submitted to the people for approval or rejection, on Thursday, the seventh day of August next.

All the amendments proposed are necessary and important, and those who favor them should not fail to vote.

THE MANNER OF VOTING.

Constant inquiries are made of us concerning the manner of voting at the ensuing election in August.

For the information of voters, we have prepared the following instructions:

THESE MUST BE EIGHT BOXES.

There are eight amendments in all. As they are to be voted on separately, the poll-holders must have EIGHT BOXES for the ballots. Each box should be labeled with a written or printed form, specifying the particular amendment to be voted on in said box.

THERE SHOULD BE EIGHT LABELS.

The following are the eight forms which should be labeled on the eight boxes, respectively:

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the Public Debt.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the office of Superintendent of Public Works.

III.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the State Census.

IV.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to exemption from taxation.

V.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the University.

VI.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the sessions of the General Assembly.

VII.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to the Code Commissioners.

VIII.

Amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina in relation to Federal Ballots.

The ballots should be written or printed, either with the words "For Amendment" or the words "Against Amendment."

Persons voting for the amendments should use the former, while those voting against the amendments the latter.

THE POLLS.

Sheriffs must open the polls at the respective election precincts on the seventh day of August, at eight o'clock in the morning and keep them open until seven o'clock in the afternoon.

WHO MAY VOTE.

Every person qualified to vote according to the Constitution may vote for or against each amendment.

RATIFICATION.

At the close of the polls, the judges of the election shall count out separately the number of votes cast for and against each amendment. After all the returns from the 47 county have been officially counted, it will then be ascertained which of the amendments have been ratified, if any, and which rejected. The amendments which receive a majority of the popular vote of the State will be duly ratified and become part of the Constitution of North Carolina. A part or all of them may be either ratified or rejected.

THE WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN.

Under the head of "What is said of us," the Washington Republican of Monday last has the following:

"The intelligent manner in which the Republican has treated and discussed the political affairs of the Southern States has not only found a complimentary response in the resolutions of the Virginia Republican convention, but is also recognized by the journalists of the South. As an instance the Columbia Union-Herald, the leading Republican paper of South Carolina, quoting from our columns, indorses our policy in the Virginia campaign, and adds that the National Republican, recognized as one of the most influential administration papers, indorses the proposition to nominate Colonel Hughes, and the Greenbrier (N. C.) New North State alludes to us as follows:

"The Republican is one of the best papers in the Union. Its course is truly independent and honest. It asks no favors, and handles all questions and all men without fear and regardless of party affiliations."

In contradistinction to this the Conservative papers of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Texas, and in short all the lately reconstructed States, denounce us as "sensational falsifiers," and copy all that we have to say about the third term."

So far as the Conservative papers of North Carolina are concerned, the Republican certainly era in charging them with having denounced it, in the terms ascribed to the Conservative papers in "all the lately reconstructed States."

We think we can with equal confidence say that the Virginia press is also misrepresented in the extract quoted above.

Our acquaintance with the Republican commenced about the time it began its war upon Abbott and Pool of this State, and its well-directed blows on these individuals recommended it to us as a sensible and independent journal.

We have seen no abuse of the Republican in any of our State exchanges, although it has on several occasions made itself amenable to severe criticism.

As the organ of the President, the Republican is about as fair as we could expect, inasmuch as but little of fairness or justice can be expected of the mouth-piece of an Administration whose policy has been so hostile and unreasonable towards the Southern States.

"The intelligent manner in which the Republican has treated and discussed the political affairs in the Southern States" may be gratifying to its self-pride, but we do not think that the resolutions of endorsement in the Lynchburg Convention, of which it boasts, can be attributed as much to its intelligent discussion of Southern politics as to the fact that the Convention thought an endorsement of his organ would be gratifying to the President. It was more to flatter Grant than to honor the Republican that the Virginia Radicals gave a "complimentary response" to the Republican's intelligence.

We took occasion several days ago to express our surprise that the national organ of the Radical party should contain a malignant attack upon Jefferson Davis, and we think the Republican ought to hang its head in shame for its scurrilous article which we condemned at the time of its appearance.

That paper's officious intermeddling in Virginia politics has called forth from some of our Virginia contemporaries occasional mild rebukes; but we have not seen any bitter denunciation, nor such epithets applied to it as "sensational falsifier." If such expressions are met with in Southern journals once in a while, it is the exception and not the rule.

The Republican is conducted with ability and is a good newspaper, but as it discusses the political affairs in the South from a Radical stand-point, it is natural that Conservatives should occasionally use considerable warmth of expression in exploding its political fallacies and misrepresentations.

VIRGINIA.

The Conservatives of Virginia met in Convention at Richmond yesterday to nominate their candidate for Governor.

At the time of this writing it is not known who is the nominee, or whether or not any nomination was made at all on the first day.

The contest seems to have been narrowed down between Goode, Kemper and Withers, either of whom will be acceptable to the Conservative masses.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Wilmington burglars continue enterprising.

Gen. Dan Sickles is said to be in bad health.

Eggs are 20 cents per dozen in Wilmington.

Corn is selling in Newbern at 75cts. per bushel.

Charlotte is to have another Building and Loan Association.

There are 10 prisoners now confined in the Cumberland county jail.

Newbern is now rejoicing in a plentiful supply of fruit and vegetables.

The bowls of ears nightly grate harshly upon the nerves of Wilmingtonians.

Grapes from the Tokay Vineyard are plentiful in the Fayetteville market at 50 cents per quart.

The rain of Sunday did much damage to the corn crop in the Fayetteville section, according to the Eagle.

The regatta of the Carolina Yacht Club takes place to-day. The first prize is a handsome bronze clock.

James Tarleton, who lives four miles from Charlotte, on Thursday morning was bitten on the hand by a copperhead snake and it is thought that he will die.

A number of the tax payers of New Hanover county held a meeting in Wilmington on Monday, for the purpose of protesting against the present excessive taxation.

The Newbern Times, in its last issue, gives a fac simile for the seal of the North Carolina Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The engraving is in every way appropriate.

A colored man by the name of Robt. Murphy, of Holly Township, New Hanover county, was lodged in jail in Wilmington on Monday, charged with an attempt to commit rape upon the person of Julia Davis, a little white girl ten years old. So says the Post of the 4th inst.

At Brown Marsh, in Bladen county, on last Saturday evening, Alex. Robinson, colored, was assaulted by Solomon Lemon, also colored, and shot and probably murdered. No provocation was given, the act having been said to be the result of an old grudge borne by Lemon towards the injured man. Lemon is still at large.

Says the Wilmington Star of the 5th inst.: "On Saturday, while a colored excursion party were returning from Rockingham to Lilesville, it was found by the conductor that an expected addition was about to be made to the crowd, for whose accommodation no preparation had been made or ticket obtained. A colored woman among the excursionists was the individual about to act a prominent part in introducing the unbidden stranger, and just before reaching Lilesville the conductor found it expedient to stop the train and put her off. This was done, and shortly afterwards, in a convenient spot, on the side of the road, another human being was ushered into existence."

Trains on the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio R. R. are now running in charge of a temporary receiver, Mr. J. J. Gormley. Mr. G. was appointed by Judge Moore. The quarrel between Col. Johnston and R. L. McDowell, the contending parties for the control of the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio R. R., resulted in a street recontre on Monday. In regard to this matter the Charlotte Observer of the 5th inst. has the following:

"A personal recontre took place yesterday afternoon, in front of the Court-house, between Col. Wm. Johnston and Mr. R. L. McDowell. The cause leading to the difficulty was the letter from Mr. McDowell, which appears in the Observer this morning, and which was put upon the streets in circular form yesterday afternoon about two o'clock. Col. Johnston was the assailing party. Little or no blood was drawn, and the damage done was small, as the parties were soon separated. In the melee Mr. McDowell drew a pistol but did not fire. Court was in session at the time the difficulty took place, and both parties were at once taken before Judge Moore, who bound them over in the sum of $5,000 each to keep the peace. J. H. Wilson, Esq., went on the bond of Col. Johnston, and W. J. Yates, Esq., on that of Mr. McDowell. Both of the gentlemen have been summoned to appear before the Mayor this morning."

Eugene City, Oregon, has found it necessary to have two police judges, so that when one gets drunk the other can fine him.

Three women have gone crazy in Paris after sight of the Shah's diamonds. One of them has committed suicide because the festivities are at an end.

I have used Dr. Simmon's Liver Regulator in my family for Peppermint, Bile and Sicker Headache, and regard it as an invaluable remedy in these attacks. It has not failed to give relief in any instance.

REV. W. F. EASTERLING, Florida Conference.

M E D I C A L C A R D

Dr. James W. Alston, of Warren county, having removed to this city, respectfully offers his professional services to the citizens of the State of North Carolina. He is a native of the country, and one of the most prominent physicians in the State. His practice is extensive, and he is well known throughout the State.

He has been placed in the witness-box in France. He was Antoine de Tounens, otherwise Orelie-Antoine I, King of Patagonia and Araucania. Various parts had been obtaining money as pertaining to his country, and one Giraud, who claimed to be his Prime Minister, promised vast concessions in Araucania in return for aid. It was found that M. Tounens was of good family; had been a lawyer; emigrated to Chile, and after most romantic and perilous adventures reached Patagonia, where he was elected chief of a combination of various tribes of the interior. Finally, in 1861, in an Assembly of the Araucanians, he was made King. His reign was short-lived, for he was made prisoner in 1862, by the Chilean Government, and sent to France. He delegated his powers, according to his own statement, and is now endeavoring to contract a loan and secure recognition in Europe. He disavowed Giraud, who was condemned to fine and imprisonment.

Ernest Ruffini, a Cleveland boy, employed in an architect's office in Chicago, prepared a plan for the new Court House in that city, which was accepted over fifty two others sent from all parts of the country and Europe. The prize offered was $5,000.

PERPETUAL ICE.—The Poughkeepsie Telegraph says that there is a pass in the Catskill Mountains, between Shandaken Center and Westkill, Ulster county, where snow and ice can be found at all seasons of the year. A road runs some five miles up a deep hollow, bounded on the two sides by high mountains, with a clear, ice-cold stream of water running down its center. Stretching across the head of this hollow is another mountain somewhat higher than the others, that makes one think the pass-way had suddenly terminated in a sort of cul de sac, but upon arriving at its base the road turns directly to the right and enters a narrow pass, hardly fifty feet in width. On each side the mountains tower upwards a thousand feet from the roadway, not perpendicular, but so steep that when the trees have shed their foliage the top can be seen by a person standing at the foot. There is snow and ice during the hottest days of summer a few feet from the roadway. There are large masses of solid ice in some caves not further than five feet from the road. Strange as it may seem, the growth of vegetation is very rank, the lichens especially covering the rocks profusely, though animals are very scarce, it being to cold for their comfort.

STORY OF A LOST HEIR.—The following story of a lost heir is told by a Tassanian paper, the Cornwall Chronicle: About seven years ago, in the city of London, a cheesemonger died, leaving cash to the tune of £100,000 to be quarreled over, fought and disputed for by the reputed heirs-at-law. Advertisements were inserted at different times in the English newspapers, and many a claimant a la Tisbourn was forthcoming. The lawyers, however, were not satisfied that any of the numerous claimants were the "right men" and what has just transpired proves they were correct in their judgment, as the "right man" has turned up in the person of the deceased cheesemonger's brother, George Hutley, who arrived in this colony about forty years ago. He was discovered by Mr. F. Stevens, a Victorian barrister, splitting up in the ranges of that colony, taken to Melbourne, shipped on board a steamer and brought to Lancastor, and then taken to Hobart Town, where he was identified as the veritable George Hutley, who arrived in Tasmania some forty years ago. After all the necessary documents are procured to prove without a shadow of doubt the man's identity, he will proceed to England to claim his inheritance.

COUNTERFEIT GOLD COIN.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular to the assistant treasurers of the United States notifying them "that there is in circulation a very dangerous counterfeit $5 gold coin of the issue of 1872, and its spurious character can only be ascertained by the closest scrutiny. You will be careful to examine all pieces of this date, as the coinage of that issue did not exceed $50,000. The government will take immediate steps to withdraw all of this issue from circulation. Competent detectives have been put upon the case to give proper attention to the subject."

The counterfeit, which Secretary Richardson speaks of as dangerous contains pure gold to the value of $4.50. In bulk it is similar to the genuine coins, having mixed with the gold some alloy which assayers have as yet failed to discover.

Miss Jersuha Bryan is the lioness of Queen's Row, Pa., just now. She went out picking huckleberries with a party of girls last week, and straying further into the woods than the rest, she was attacked by a huge panther. Her companions, hearing the beast scream, sought safety in flight, and Miss Bryan, seeing that escape was impossible, seized a large pine knot and gave the animal a blow. She kept as cool as she could under the rather trying circumstances, and while the monster tore at her arms and clothing, she lustily pounded its head with her club, and a lucky blow at length stretched it dead. Her raiment was torn into shreds, her face and person badly scratched, but she walked home and gave a triumphant account of herself. The panther was six feet and ten inches long.

Of all the odd deaths in the world, this reported from India is certainly the oddest. A native, while catching fish in a tank, put the head of one in his mouth and bit it, as the fish was rather troublesome in the matter of wiggling. Suddenly one of the sharp points in the back fin stuck in his hand; he opened his mouth to call for help, and the fish giving a quick plunge, jumped down his throat, and there firmly stuck. It was only taken out, and by small pieces, after he had been carried to the hospital. He was so exhausted that he died as soon as it was removed.

The body of a youth, named David Signacio, aged about 16 years, was found in the James river, just below Drewry's Bluff on Monday. It is supposed that he was drowned while bathing. He was a resident of Richmond.

Sidney Waterlow, Lord Mayor of London, started in life as a poor, unknown boy. He is a second edition of Lord Whittington, only he did not have the advantage of having a knowing cat.

A King has been placed in the witness-box in France. He was Antoine de Tounens, otherwise Orelie-Antoine I, King of Patagonia and Araucania. Various parts had been obtaining money as pertaining to his country, and one Giraud, who claimed to be his Prime Minister, promised vast concessions in Araucania in return for aid. CLING TO THOSE WHO CLING TO US.

There are many friends of summer. They are kind when the flowers bloom, but when winter chills the blossoms, they depart with the perfume. Friends are far and few, when one has proved his friendship, clinging to him who clings to you.

Do not harshly judge your neighbor, do not deem his life untrue, if he makes no great pretensions. Friends are great though words are few; Friends are few, though the friends are many, firm as when the skies are blue, will be friends while life endures, clinging to those who cling to you.

When you see a worthy brother, buffering the stormy main, help a helping hand, fraternal. Then the hand is shown again; don't desert the old and tried friend. When misfortune comes in view, for then he needs friend's comforts, clinging to those who cling to you.
